

ABOUT JACKIE

On February 23, 2014 everything changed in an instant when Jackie Lithgow was assaulted during his freshman year of college at Bloomsburg University. He was critically injured, suffering a fractured skull and severe traumatic brain injury, and was life flighted to Geisinger Medical Center in Danville, PA. Over the course of his recovery, Jackie overcame numerous obstacles, including a coma, blood clot, multiple infections, and countless surgeries. His rehab included relearning how to walk, talk, and eat. Six months of his recovery was spent at Magee Rehabilitation Hospital in Philadelphia with an additional year at Penn State Hershey Health Rehabilitation-Outpatient Neuro Day Program.

Jackie's journey advances into yet another year of recovery and giving back. Jackie is now a full time employee for Carlisle Construction Materials working in the Integration Marketing and Communication Department.

In 2016, Jackie and his family began their involvement with Golf 'Fore' Jackie, the charity event founded to support him during his recovery.

In 2018, The Jackie Lithgow Foundation was created thanks to support from the Hunter Brooks Watson Memorial Fund (in the form of a grant). The Jackie Lithgow Foundation was established to provide support to other survivors of traumatic brain injuries, through financial, educational, and emotional assistance, as well as research and program development. The foundation was inspired by Jackie's wish to give back to other traumatic brain injury survivors who may not have the same level of support that he had.

We would like to thank all involved with the tournament over the years. Golf 'Fore' Jackie has raised over $95,000 in the past eight years. These funds have helped patients on the Brain Injury Unit at Magee Rehabilitation Hospital and enabled the purchase of many therapy aids and needed equipment not covered by insurance. With the receipt of our 501(c)(3) (#82-4253328) donations are tax deductible and we are also giving to local TBI survivors as well as extending our outreach at conferences.
